Psst! We're growing fast and we need your help to save the planet.

At Simple Feast we are on a mission to change the world's eating habits towards a more sustainable future, and we're doing it by showing off the power of plants.

As we are scaling internationally, we need to add more talented people to the team to make sure we have the infrastructure in place to keep up with our growth. We are looking for someone who can take on the position as Frontend Developer and is driven by this mission.

What you'll do

The role will be based in Copenhagen and you'll become an important part of our Digital Product team. You will be responsible for:

- expanding, scaling, and maintaining our website as we grow our customer base and move into new markets.
- collaborating with web designers and our backend team to manage and prioritize new projects and features.
- taking part in the development and implementation of our entire technology stack.

Who you are

We believe you are a person that takes ownership and shares our enthusiasm for delicious plant based meals as well as our mission: Creating the future of food. You are fluent in HTML / CSS / JavaScript and you have flair for UI design and the drive to build amazing user experiences.

Further qualifications:

- Experienced in building websites using a headless CMS and custom coding.
- Used to work in an English-speaking environment.

Application

If you think this sounds like a good match and you are interested in joining an international team that spans across Copenhagen, Berlin, Stockholm, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, please apply.

Simple Feast encourages anyone interested regardless of age, gender, religion or ethnic affiliation to apply for the position.

The Simple Feast Culture

We are an international team, bringing with us the best from Copenhagen, Berlin, Oxnard, Santa Barbara, and LA.

We have big ambitions and a global mindset. We work together to accomplish what we came here to do and we celebrate together as we get closer. We believe in a supportive and open atmosphere.

We care about our planet but we are not your usual hippies. We are working towards a serious cause but we like to have fun along the way. We like working with exceptional people but there is little room for big egos. We are looking for those driven by mission.

About Simple Feast

Simple Feast is an organic, plant-based food company that delivers weekly boxes of ready-to-eat meals, straight to your doorstep. We started in Denmark and are now taking the Danish culinary experience global.
